Security interest found: money owing to Interested Party 1

Interested Party 1 has a financial interest in this vehicle. It is very likely that money is owing on it. Should the money owed to the secured parties not be repaid, then they can repossess the vehicle.

What should I do?

Ask the seller to have the security released, wait 24 hours, then recheck the vehicle. This is the only way to be certain. Note that the finance company listed against the security will only discuss the details of the security with the vehicle owner.

Is the seller reliant on your payment to release the security? Click here...

Inconsistent odometer readings

The odometer readings for this vehicle appear to go backwards: a more recent odometer reading is lower than a previous odometer reading. Interpreting odometer readings.

What should I do?

Refer to the odometer readings graph below.

Be cautious. If you suspect a reading has been entered incorrectly ask the seller to provide evidence (e.g. last WOF test sheet) to the NZTA immediately so they can correct the reading. The NZTA can be contacted on 0800 108 809. Wait, then get a recheck to verify the correction.

If you suspect the odometer has been tampered with we suggest you get a Mechanical Check or have the vehicle checked by a specialised odometer Inspector such as odocheck.co.nz.

If the odometer has been reset (i.e. has gone 'around-the-clock' or has been replaced) you need to factor in the true mileage before you purchase.

Licence (registration sticker) will expire on 18 September 2014

A vehicle must have a licence to legally be driven on the road.

What should I do?

Ensure you relicense the vehicle before 18 September 2014. 12 month license fees range from $280 to $480 for passenger cars. View all license fees.
